Notes on post-EBCC coins

2339.18: Sear (1529A) lists the coin as unique (Spahr collection – subsequently sold by Naville in London in early 2018) but, while still rare, four other specimens are recorded as sold by CNG in the last 10 years or so. See also the Berk-England sale (1989), lot 293. The suggestion in the latter that the coin may be associated with the coronation of Constantine V in 720 seems to me to be plausible in view of the explicit Constantine legend on the reverse.

2351.18: Very rare. Possibly the only examples thus far noted are the two (one from each officina) in DOC (for Leo III) – both from the Athens Agora excavations.
